OAUG News Release

OAUG Announces Participants in 2009 Star Partner Program

- Program offers fresh, enhanced ways to bring your message to the growing family of Oracle Applications users throughout the year-

ATLANTA – Feb. , 2009 - The Oracle Applications Users Group (OAUG), the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle Applications users, announced the 2009 list of associate member organizations participating in the OAUG Star Partner Program.

Participants for 2009 include: EiS Technologies Inc., IBM, Noetix, RWD Technologies; Solution Beacon LLC and TUSC as Five-Star partners; Applimation and Global Software as Four-Star partners; and Core Services Corporation, e:solutions Group, Excel4Apps, IT Convergence, More4Apps, O2Works, STR Software and The GL Company as Three-Star partners. In addition, 35 other organizations are participating in the program at the Two-Star Elite, Two-Star, Two-Star Demo and Rising-Star levels.

Associate members participating in the OAUG Star Partner Program provide tools and solutions that help Oracle Applications users enhance their productivity, maximize their investment and influence the quality, usability and support of Oracle Applications. The program optimizes users' capabilities in their day-to-day use and management of Oracle E-Business Suite, PeopleSoft, Siebel, Oracle Retail, Oracle Communications, Hyperion and other acquired Oracle Applications by its access to an additional knowledgebase of solutions provided by the members of the program.

The OAUG Star Partner program bundles membership, advertising and conference benefits into one value-priced package that delivers benefits ranging from marketing opportunities to increased conference visibility. The program connects participating associate members and applications users and serves as a vehicle to gain added exposure and recognition using a variety of channels, including conference participation, Web banners on the OAUG Web site, webinars, direct mail campaigns and articles within OAUG Insight and OAUG eNews, the OAUG's standard publications and communications.

“The Star Partner Program expands participant’s global reach to the entire user base throughout the year,” said Raymond Payne, president of the OAUG. “Many of these participants also provide workshops, demonstrations and other educational tools to our members, which further enhances the value of OAUG membership.”

The 2009 program participants are exhibiting at COLLABORATE 09: Technology and Applications Forum for the Oracle Community, May 3-7, at the Orange County Convention Center West in Orlando.
